 Title of thesis: Physical and psychological well-being among long-term cancer survivors (ISBN: 978-90-9021437-5)

Brief summary of research

I started my career as a PhD student at the Comprehensive Cancer Centre South with a thesis focussed on health-related quality of life and health care utilisation among long-term survivors of various types of cancer. Thereafter, I started to work as a post-doctoral researcher at the department of Medical Psychology at Tilburg University. Here I worked on an NWO VICI project on Type D personality (the conjoint effect of negative affectivity and social inhibition) among cardiovascular patients.

My experience in the oncology field made me wonder whether Type D personality was also an important prognostic factor in cancer patients. In 2010 I received a VENI grant from NWO for a project entitled: "Towards a healthy cancer survivorship: investigating the role of Type D personality in colorectal cancer patients." This study was set up as a collaboration between Tilburg University, the Comprehensive Cancer Centre South and 10 hospitals in the south of the Netherlands.

From the beginning, my research interest was thus focused on assessing the quality of life of cancer patients. However, over the years, improving this quality of life became a major topic of interest too, especially among patients treated with chemotherapy. In this light, scalp cooling to prevent chemotherapy-induced hair loss caught my attention. Over the years, I performed a number of projects on this topic which resulted in a number of papers and a book chapter on this side effect of chemotherapy. This spring, we launched a website on hair loss and scalp cooling which we developed for patients (www.hoofdhuidkoeling.nl). With the activities of my colleague Corina van den Hurk and several medical oncologists in the Netherlands our studies have initiated wide-spread use of scalp cooling which is now available in most Dutch hospitals.

Another adverse side-effect of chemotherapy is chemotherapy-induced peripheral neuropathy (CIPN). Because of the growing prevalence of cancer, the broadening of the indications for chemotherapy, and the development of new chemotherapeutic agents with CIPN side-effects, I believe that CIPN will become a major cancer survivorship issue. Therefore, together with other interested researchers and medical specialists, I initiated some studies on this topic. These studies show that CIPN has a negative impact on patients' quality of life and limit patients in their daily activities. The variety of studied patient populations and chemotherapeutic agents in the existing studies call for further studies on this topic in order to shed more light onto this area which is highly necessary. Also, it struck me that there is no well-accepted proven therapy to prevent or treat CIPN. There is thus an urgent need for a preventive strategy against CIPN.

The data of all my previous and current projects are, or will become, freely available for academic use through the PROFILES registry (www.profilesregistry.nl; www.profielstudy.nl) which my colleagues and I developed with an investment grant from NWO that we received in 2009. I am also a member of the executive board of PROFILES.

Professional Experience

(per appointment: fte, tenured term ('vast') / fixed-term ('tijdelijk'))

October 2009 - present	Assistant Professor Department of Medical and Clinical Psychology, Tilburg University (0.8 fte tenured term since November 1st 2010). Netherlands Comprehensive Cancer Organisation, Eindhoven cancer registry, the Netherlands (0.2 fte tenured term since November 1st 2010).
January 2007 – October 2009	Postdoctoral research fellow Department of Medical Psychology and Neuropsychology, Tilburg University (0.8 fte fixed-term). Comprehensive Cancer Centre South, Eindhoven cancer registry (0.2 fte fixed-term).
Jan. 2004 - Dec 2006	PhD student Comprehensive Cancer Centre South, Eindhoven Cancer Registry (0.8 fte fixed-term). Department of Psychology and Health, Tilburg University (0.2 fte fixed-term).
Jun. 2003 - Sept. 2003	Research internship Department of Urology, Catharina Hospital Eindhoven. Master thesis: The short-term influence of brachytherapy on quality of life in men with prostate cancer.
Aug. 2002 - Jan. 2003	Clinical internship Department of Medical Psychology, St. Anna Hospital, Geldrop.

Additional work-related activities

September 2015 – present	Member of the Gender Equality Committee of Tilburg University on behalf of the University Labour Representation.
January 2013 - present	Member of the University Labour Representation Board on behalf of the VAWO.

April 2012 – present	Vice chair of the Science Committee of the Tilburg School of Social and Behavioural Sciences of Tilburg University.
Nov. 2010 – Sept. 2013	Member of the working group "Standaard chemotherapie-geïnduceerde alopecia" initiated by the Dutch Scalp Cooling Group of the Comprehensive Cancer Centre South.
May 2010 – present	Member of the executive board of PROFILES (Patient Reported Outcomes Following Initial treatment and Long term Evaluation of Survivorship), www.profielstudie.nl and www.profilesregistry.nl
March 2010 – Jan. 2013	Coordinator voluntary research internship (2 nd and 3 rd year bachelor), Tilburg University
Sept. 2009 – Nov. 2010	Member of the working group "Selfmanagement NPCF-CBO" initiated by the "kwaliteitsinstituut voor de Gezondheidszorg CBO" and the "Nederlandse Federatie van Kankerpatiëntenorganisaties (NFK)".
May 2009 - 2013	Member of the European Hematology Association Scientific Working Group "QoL and symptoms" for the development of guidelines on "Patient-Reported Outcomes in Hematology".
Sept 2008 - present	Member of the faculty council of the Tilburg School of Social and Behavioural Sciences of Tilburg University.

Teaching experience

September 2015 and onwards	Coordinator for the department Medical and Clinical Psychology for the courses; 'Bachelor thesis', 'Academic Skills' and 'Research Skills in Psychology'
October 2011	BKO-certificate (Basic teaching qualification)
September 2010 – present	Lecturer 'Clinical Health Psychology in Medicine' (3 rd year bachelor), Tilburg University.
September – December 2010	Lecturer 'Academic Skills – Psychology' (1 st year bachelor), Tilburg University
September 2008 – August 2010	Lecturer 'Personality Psychology' (2 nd year bachelor) Tilburg University.
October 2007 – August 2010	Guest lecturer 'Clinical Health Psychology' (3 rd year bachelor), Tilburg University.
September 2007 - 2012	Supervisor of bachelor thesis, Tilburg University.
September 2007 – 2009	Supervisor of master thesis, Tilburg University.
2004 - 2006	Supervisor of master internship students (research skills/thesis), Comprehensive Cancer Centre South.

Grants

- 2014 Kwaliteit van leven onderzoek bij lymfeklierkankerpatiënten: Van observeren naar interveniëren voor een betere kwaliteit van leven!: Jonker-Driessen stichting – Co-applicant (€ 410.000)
- 2012 Supporting breast cancer patients in coping with chemotherapy-induced hair loss and treatment decisions regarding scalp cooling. (Ondersteuning van borstkankerpatiënten bij coping met haarverlies door chemotherapie en de behandelkeuze rondom hoofdhuidkoeling): Pink Ribbon – Principal investigator (€ 69.500)
- 2010 Towards a healthy cancer survivorship: investigating the role of Type D personality in colorectal cancer patients: VENI Subsidy NWO – Principal investigator (€250.000)
- 2009 Building an infrastructure for multidisciplinary and longitudinal data collection of the physical and psychosocial impact of cancer and its treatment: Patient Reported Outcomes Following Initial treatment and Long term Survivorship (PROFILES): Investment Subsidy NWO - Co-applicant (€599.000)
- 2008 Quality of life and health care use among lymphoma survivors: a longitudinal population-based study in the Southeast Netherlands: Jonker-Driessen Stichting – Co-applicant (€180.000)
- 2006 Quality of life in lymphoma survivors: INTERZOL – Principal Investigator (€ 36.000)
- 2005 Quality of life in cancer survivors: Rotary Triborch, Tilburg - Principal Investigator (€ 30.000)

PhD students

I am co-promoter of:

- Cynthia Bonhof (2015-2019). Chemotherapy-induced peripheral neuropathy, the PROCORE study.
- Tonneke Beijers (2012-2015). Chemotherapy-induced peripheral neuropathy. Promotor: Prof. dr. L. van de Poll-Franse and Prof. V. Tjan-Heijnen. Defence; 2015
- Simone Oerlemans (2009-2014). Late effects and long-term health related quality of life in lymphoma patients. Promoter: Prof. dr. L.van de Poll-Franse. Defence; November 7th 2014
- Olga Husson (2009-2013). Information provision and patient reported outcomes in cancer survivors with a special focus on thyroid cancer. Defence; March 1st 2013. Promoter: Prof. dr. L.van de Poll-Franse.

Organization of conferences:

- 4-8 November 2013: Organizer of the symposium 'Innovative data collection and data sharing in psycho-oncology' at the IPOS 15th World Congress of Psycho-Oncology in Rotterdam, the Netherlands.
- October 9th 2009: Symposium "Leven met kanker", Tilburg University.
- March 2nd 2007: Symposium "Overleven of leven? Kwaliteit van leven na kanker", Tilburg University.

Reviewing responsibilities

I have frequently served as a peer reviewer for the following scientific journals and funding agencies:

- Acta Oncologica
- Dutch Cancer Society (KWF kankerbestrijding)
- European Journal of cancer
- Journal of Affective Disorders
- Journal of Cancer Survivorship
- Journal of Clinical Oncology
- Journal of Psychosomatic research
- Psycho-Oncology
